

FTSE WATCH LIST INDEX SERIES

The FTSE Watch List Index Series is a set of 12 benchmark indices illustrating the impact of the addition of region-specific indices within FTSE's widely used global benchmark series. Three new indices have been added to the existing nine Watch List indices:

- FTSE Developed incl. Israel Index;
- FTSE Emerging ex Israel, ex Pakistan Index;
- FTSE All-World ex Pakistan Index.

The nine existing benchmark indices illustrate the impact of the addition of China 'A' Shares as well as the potential promotion of South Korea and Taiwan from advanced emerging to developed status.

The indices are calculated as an indicator of what market performance would look like if certain 'FTSE Watch List' events had already taken place. They allow investors to assess precisely the influence on turnover, investment flows and country weightings that any possible reclassification of the four markets currently on FTSE's Watch List would have on portfolios.
